In accordance with the provisions of the Digital Millennium Copyright Act (“DMCA”), Cantaloupe maintains a policy of taking down user material that infringes upon the copyright rights of others. By accessing and using the Cantaloupe Community site and content, you represent and agree that you will not use any Cantaloupe software or site to post or transmit any information, software or other material that violates or infringes upon the rights of others, including material that is an invasion of privacy or publicity rights or that is protected by copyright, trademark or other proprietary right, or derivative works with respect thereto, without first obtaining permission from the owner or rights holder. Without limiting any right or remedy, Cantaloupe may, in appropriate circumstances, terminate a user’s access to the Community and any other website owned or operated by Cantaloupe in response to repeated DMCA notifications or other allegations of infringement of any intellectual property right of another.

If you are a copyright owner or an agent thereof and believe that any user content or other posted material infringes upon your copyrights, you may submit a notification pursuant to the DMCA by providing Cantaloupe’s designated copyright agent with the following information in writing:

- (i) Identification of the copyrighted work claimed to have been infringed, or, if multiple copyrighted works are covered by a single notification, a representative list of such works;
- (ii) Identification of the material that is claimed to be infringing or to be the subject of infringing activity;

- (v) Information reasonably sufficient to permit Cantaloupe to contact you, such as an address, telephone number, and, electronic mail address; and
- (vi) A physical or electronic signature of a person authorized to act on behalf of the copyright owner.

Notifications of claimed infringement should be sent to the Cantaloupe Copyright Agent at: dmca@cantaloupe.com. For clarity, only DMCA notifications or allegations relating to copyright infringement in connection with user content should go to the Cantaloupe Copyright Agent; any other feedback, comments, requests for technical support, and other communications should be addressed to standard support contacts as identified on the Community site. Cantaloupe will take whatever action, in its sole discretion, that it deems appropriate in response to any notification, including removing the allegedly infringing material from the Community.

Cantaloupe may send any information provided in any notification to the user associated with the allegedly infringing material. If that user sends a DMCA counter-notification, Cantaloupe may forward that DMCA counter-notification to the contact identified in the original notification. Please note that the DMCA provides that any person who knowingly materially misrepresents that material or activity is infringing may be subject to liability.
